SPONSORS SUMMER SOCCER 2008: TRAIN HARD - PLAY SMART SPONSORS

Kinder Soccer Academy

We are in the 8th week of our skills development program for 3 & 4 year olds and see them getting ready for partial games. Our high coach-player ratio shows results. By now, these little stars have mastered throw-in techniques, shoelace kicks and dribbling the ball, running safely and efficiently across the field and through traffic. Some have started to apply the more complex inside foot kick movement. These youngsters have been introduced to basic Laws of The Game and Fair Play principles. Most of all, we continue to see a high participation ratio, even though it hasn't been the nicest weather in June :-)

Boys & Girls 7 & Under

Our second youngest age group is progressing nicely. These players practice Mondays and play games on Wednesdays. Coaches see their understanding of the game improving weekly. All have learned the basic LoTG and Fair Play rules. Most players can pass with the inside foot by now and understand positioning on the field. Games are becoming more dynamic and a pleasure to watch. We will progress to game play without on-field presence of coaches in August. We are also happy to see our four new apprentice coaches receiving kudos from their seniors – congrats!

Shannon Stadler leads the charge with Madison Macor providing support, while #14 Spencer Waight is trying to catch up.

David Thompson skillfully dispossesses the ball from Kody Stoute, with team mates Michela Fortner, Jack Hail, and Evan Borges come to the rescue.

Ethan Xavier and Ronan Tracy watch their clearance shot sail past #12 Cameron Peters and mate ThomasHarper.

Boys & Girls 10 & Under

JK Concrete Forming: the other Irish team is lurking around, with the opposition never knowing what the Yellows' will do next.

Fiskars: "Train Hard, Play Smart" is their philosophy, which will serve them well for the tournament day.

Kodiak Automotive: with only two losses so far, it looks like the Greens' are giving Picket Fences a run for their money. Great individual efforts

SNAP Milton: Ah! It's coming together. The skills are improving and a game sense is forming. Games are close and practices well attended.

Picket Fences: still going strong, but opposition is catching on. Will there be enough time to figure them out before tournament day?

Halton Dairy Farmers: the "Moo's" are closing the gap. Strong technical coaching and great work ethic will make them a contender for the top tournament spot.
